

Leading Data Warehousing and Business Intelligence Firm Launches Redesigned Website and Announces New Solutions.

Indianapolis, IN (PR Buzz) January 11, 2012 -- B.I. Voyage, LLC (BIV), a leading data warehousing and business intelligence firm, with over 30 years of combined Data Warehouse, Business Intelligence & Data Management experience, and a trusted Microsoft Gold partner and proven Systems integrator, announced today the redesign and launch of its principal website <http://www.bivoyage.com>. The new B.I. Voyage Website focuses around making it more convenient and comprehensive for those seeking technological solutions to gain an understanding of B.I. Voyage's high level and complex services and all just in time for an exciting New Year for the company.

The company's former website had been around for almost four years and over the years has built a large online presence. The makeover takes advantage of the latest advancements in technology and modern design, and makes <http://www.bivoyage.com> one of the leading and most innovative online data warehousing and business intelligence Website's in the United States.

The new layout allows for a streamlined information gathering experience with easier navigation and social media additions. Visitors to the newly rolled out Website will have an easier time gaining the important knowledge needed when considering utilizing B.I. Voyage's vast service and solution offerings.

In addition to the newly designed Website, B.I. Voyage has included several new "Solutions" on the site, to include Preventable Readmissions and the latest in leveraging Social Decision Making. B.I. Voyage has teamed up with Predixion, a Software provider, based in San Juan Capistrano, California, to offer providers and plan clients with a readmission solution that Identifies and reduces the overall number of avoidable readmissions experienced by hospitals. On the Social decision side-of-the-house, B.I. Voyage has partnered with Panorama Software, based in Toronto, Canada, as their go-to partner for Necto Implementations. Panorama Necto represents the new generation of Business Intelligence solution that enable enterprises to gain intelligent insight far more quickly, proficiently, and with greater relevancy.
